A KICKING MULE.

Not many moons since Farmer Duff and his neighbor were discussing the subject "mules," over their back fence. Says Duff to Duff, "Mules are mighty trash creatures; I once had a mule that would kick at the least provocation." "PROVOCATION," says Bluff, "why man, my mule will kick at a dog on sight."

HIDDEN IN THE HOLD

The Escaped Itata Was Well Prepared for Battle

MANY ARMED MEN BELOW HER DECK.

Two Deserter Tell the Story of Her Flight—She Was Escorted by a Man of War—Rights of the United States.

CHILE'S "FOXY" CRAFT.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 9.—Friday afternoon a reporter gained an interview with the two deserters from the Chilian steamer Itata. They told their story without restraint, as follows:
The Esmeralda, one of the finest warships in the Chilian navy, which, in common with every other man of war belonging to that republic, is now in the hands of the congress party of insurgents, left Liquique early in April to convey the South American Company's steamer Itata to the nearest American port for the purpose of buying provisions, as well as to get arms which had already been purchased by an agent of the insurgent party.
The ship was shipped to San Francisco to be placed on some coasting vessel and transferred to the Itata at some rendezvous to be arranged later. The transport and man of war sailed northward in company as far as Cape San Lucas, where, it being deemed unwise for the man of war to proceed further, a transfer was made of a portion of the crew of the Esmeralda to the hold of the Itata, with their cutlasses and muskets, and after the captain of the warship had himself gone aboard the Itata the vessels parted, it being understood that the Esmeralda would wait off San Lucas for the return of the transport.
After the transfer at Cape San Lucas the Chilians who were stowed away in the inner recesses of the Itata knew little of all that was occurring. They did know, however, that they were prepared to take part in any fight that might come along. It was an open secret on board that they were to meet the Robert and Minnie somewhere off this port, but just where they were not informed.

Pilot Dill, who took the steamer Itata out of the harbor Wednesday night, has not yet returned, and until he does get back nothing will probably be known of the direction the vessel took and whether she has transferred the arms and ammunition from the schooners Robert and Minnie.
There is much speculation in this city as to what will be done by the government, as the authorities claim to be able to make out a case of conspiracy against them. The presence of Dill on the vessel after she was in the hands of the United States marshal and the alleged fact that Pilot Keith carried a message from the captain of the Itata to the master of the Robert and Minnie outside the harbor Wednesday morning are the grounds upon which the conspiracy charge will be brought.

Speaking of the Itata's escape Marshal Gard said: "I did my entire duty, and in seizing the vessel acted strictly according to my orders. I had no authority to inspect the cargo of the ship. If the custom house officials had done their duty the contraband goods would have been found on board and instructions would then have been given to put troops on the Itata and a revenue cutter or war vessel would have been ordered here at once to keep the Chilian in port. I depended on the custom house to do its part of this business, and instead of that its officers sneaked out to sea in a tug, trying to thwart my plans for the capture of the Robert and Minnie."

IS THE CHARLESTON TO FOLLOW?

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—One of the officers of the Charleston was seen regarding the story that the Charleston had been ordered in pursuit of the Itata. He said the Charleston had left Mare Island for gun practice, but in the meantime had been placed by orders of the navy department at the disposal of the committee having charge of the obsequies of Minister Swift. In the event of orders being issued from Washington to pursue the Itata they would be received in cipher and nothing would be known as to the vessel's destination until she was well on her way.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The question of the right of the United States to take the Itata, the Chilian vessel that escaped recently from the marshal at San Diego, on the high seas is not altogether settled. The state department people have searched their authorities and have scrutinized the facts in the case, and are inclined to doubt the right. The whole question arises from a dispute as to the character of the vessel. Were she a pirate, a ship in the service of an enemy to this country and a vessel of American register engaged in acts in violation of treaty stipulations, the case would be a simple one.
But she is merely a Chilian vessel engaged in the transportation of a suspected cargo, a cargo that may possibly be contraband in the light of the treaty, and there is a very grave risk involved. No one doubts the right of the United States to arrest the vessel in our own waters for the purpose of examination, and her detention Tuesday afternoon was in accordance with this belief. But now that she has landed the deputy marshal and sailed along on her business she may prove a hornet that will sting in after years.

LONDON, May 9.—Private Chilian cables state that President Balmaceda is arranging to flee from Santiago and to come to London via Buenos Ayres.
The proposals of mediation of France, Brazil and the United States are rejected by the Balmacedists, who consider the success of such mediation as dishonorable. Balmaceda has invested a large sum on his personal account in a London bank.

People were out sleighing on Thursday at Norfolk, Conn.

St. Petersburg, May 9.—Mme. Blavatsky, the noted co-founder of the Theosophical society, died at 19 Avenue Road, Regent's park, three weeks ago. The fact has only now become publicly known. Mme. Blavatsky was 60 years of age. The cause of death was influenza, aggravated by kidney trouble.
The deceased was cremated at Woking, according to her desire.

A Very Costly Fire.

ROTTERDAM, May 9.—The state

tion of its contents have been destroyed at $1,250,000.

legation in this city has received the following cablegram: "Contradict the sensational news emanating from New York of the revolution in Costa Rica.

whole country. Congress opened May 1."

city are becoming crowded with patients suffering with influenza. All the clerks of the house of commons save one are suffering from the epidemic.

A Murderer Sentenced.

OTTAWA, Ill., May 9.—Kate Ford was sentenced here Friday to fourteen years in the penitentiary for complicity in the murder of David Moore.

Many are the "Americanisms" which are not frankly accepted in England as a part of the language. The London Daily News states that "wump," and "wump-wump," and "boas," and "to stump," and "platoon" (program, a schedule of policy), and "gerrymandering," and "lobbying" have all been adopted; and it adds:
"But the Americans, except the small set of ABC's, borrow nothing in language, as we do, unless they are to use the word 'traveler,' and 'home,' and 'travel' rather than they are to use the glorious 'traveller,' and 'domicile,' and 'journey.'"

ITS DAYS NUMBERED.

Chicago's Famous Exposition Building to Be Demolished.

CHICAGO, May 9.—The old exposition building is to be torn down, and, as the matter now stands, the work of demolition will begin next Monday. The lease of the Interstate Industrial exposition company expires Saturday night, and Mayor Washburne has been appealed to to enforce the ordinance which provides for the removal of all obstructions on the lake front as soon as their contract with the city expires.
(The Interstate industrial exposition building, now occupying the lake front at the foot of Adams street, and extending from Monroe to Jackson streets, was erected in 1893, and from the character of the meetings that have been held beneath its smoky roof has become a place of national interest. In political events there is no building in the United States so full of events of interest. Beginning in 1895 the republican national convention filled its floors and galleries and Grant and Wilson waited out triumphant. Four years later, in 1899, two presidential nominations were made, Gen. Grant, with his solid phalanx of loyalists, and William McKinley, with his dedicated and stout support of ballot, but was beaten on a line that had proved successful in his campaign for the presidency. The following year, in 1900, the same platform was chosen by the democrats, and the same year from the same platform James G. Blaine was put forth by the republicans.
Not counting the political conventions mentioned, and outside the annual expositions of the state board of agriculture, an international exhibition of railway appliances; the Chicago opera festival; North American sawyers; the Knights Templar concerts, ten seasons; national conventions and exhibitions by school teachers; Electric association; Photographic association; and numerous, twelve events in aid of charities, and many others of less public importance. In 1890 the Versteegh art collection was established.)

A Compromise Text Book Measure Reported to the Senate—House Proceedings.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 9.—Educational interests came to the front in the senate when Senator Berry reported the school text book bill from his committee with a recommendation that it pass. The bill is the work of a sub-committee, but is practically a compilation of the bills introduced by Senators Berry and Anderson. It provides for a uniformity and district local option as to free text books.
It was ordered to a second reading. A bill was introduced in the senate authorizing the school board of Chicago the right of eminent domain to condemn property for school purposes.
The bill providing for state inspection of building and construction of school houses was read a third time and passed.
In the house numerous bills were read a second time and ordered to third reading, among which were bills to increase the number of members of the board of public health, to provide for the annual payment of interest on the state debt, to amend the law relating to local option as to free text books, to authorize the school board of Chicago
the right of eminent domain to condemn property for school purposes.

FAILURE IN SOUTH DAKOTA.

ABERDEEN, S. D., May 9.—The Western Farm Mortgage Company, one of the oldest loaning companies in this vicinity, assigned Friday. The assigned capital was $250,000 over $230,000 of which was paid in. The stockholders reside largely in New York and Michigan. J. C.
Wilson, Flint, Mich., is president, and James A. Blanchard, New York, counselor. President Wilson says the assets exceed the liabilities, and every dollar will be paid if the country comes out right.

THOUSANDS UNACCOUNTED FOR.

NASHUA, N. H., May 9.—The Bay State Shoe Fastening Company has been declared bankrupt. The treasury of the company is depleted and $147,000 is unaccounted for. For three years past the company has been paying a 10 per cent. dividend, but investigation shows that every cent of it came out of the capital stock.

NEW YORK'S FAILURE RECORD.

NEW YORK, May 9.—The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days number 242, as compared with a total of 255 last week. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 209.

RUDINI CALLS FOR HELP.

The New Orleans Case to Be Submitted to the Powers—Their Judgment Asked For.

ROME, May 9.—The Italian says: "The Italian government is about to address a circular to the European powers submitting the conduct of the United States government in the New Orleans affair to their judgment. Italy will thus be the initiator of an international agreement to compel the United States to find means to guarantee the protection of foreign subjects."

Sacrificed Her Two Children.

BERLIN, May 9.—At Hardebeck the wife of a locksmith named Homfeld, while possessed with a religious mania, dressed her two children in white, held them over a vessel, and cut their throats, letting the blood fall into the receptacle. When life was extinct she endeavored to cremate the bodies, apparently with the idea of making a sacrifice. She was discovered before she could carry out this part of her tragic design.

Burned to Death.

CHICAGO, May 9.—By the explosion from some unknown cause can of gasoline, Miss Jennie Tupper, aged 19 years, was burned to death Friday night. Miss Tupper's parents reside near Flint, Mich., but she had been in this city for some time attending school. The horrible accident occurred at the residence of her uncle, Prof. J. L. Lewis, principal of the Wells public school.

THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.
 The action of the common council Friday afternoon on the license question was in strict accordance with the voice of the people of Janesville as expressed at the recent municipal election, and the action, therefore, is approved by a large majority of the people. Many of the saloon men, heretofore strongly denying the right of the council to exact the so-called double license fee, now gracefully submit and partly acknowledge a possible error of judgment on their part.
 The license question, so far as Janesville is concerned, is now settled until May 1, 1892. It is settled in accordance with the voice of the people as expressed in the recent election, and this voice is well understood by all people to mean a strict obedience to the laws of the state and ordinances of the city.
 This policy will be still stronger emphasized at the next meeting of the common council when Alderman Child will offer a resolution in effect that the council will immediately revoke the license of any person convicted of a violation of the laws of the state or the ordinances of the city.
 Notwithstanding the fact that the license question engendered all economic questions in the recent election, every councilman now occupying a seat on the common council favors granting licenses. Yet while these men favor granting licenses, a majority of them favor law, and will bring forth every means to enforce that law.
 The Gazette is pleased to see so many of the men engaged in the saloon business express themselves as favoring this new policy. The paper sincerely believes it will result in much good to all concerned; that it will ultimately remove the saloon from politics; strife and contention; that the saloon will have no more place in politics than the dry goods merchant, the groceryman, the tailor, or the dealer. It will have the place assigned it by the laws of the commonwealth, and it is better if it is connected with that place. The saloon men begin to see this, and many a majority of those who now are seeking renewal of licenses, favor general abstinence.
THE BLUE BOOK.
 The Wisconsin Blue Book for 1891, has just been issued, being unusually late in appearance. Speaking of the book and its general contents, a Madison dispatch to the Milwaukee Sentinel says: "The demand for them is very great, and this is not to be wondered at when it is considered in how many respects the state has been revolutionized politically since the appearance of the last book. The personnel in the capitol and the legislature was not the same; the men which occupied the capitol in former years. All these new officials are anxious to see their names in print, when it is doubtless hoped they will go thundering down the ages. The maps of the assembly and senate gerrymander will be viewed with special interest, as the red lines bring out very plainly the extraordinary features of Dr. Anderson's political fine work. One cannot resist the discrepancy features of the gerrymander until he sees the outlines of the ninth, twenty-eighth, thirtieth and numerous other senatorial districts, as well as many of the assembly districts. It might have been wise for the secretary of the state to have omitted the maps. The book contains several new features. It has the complete census of 1890 and also an analysis of the vote of last fall. These statistics are so compiled as to be easy of access. The book also contains a table of contents, besides the general index arranged alphabetically, which will assist materially in finding what is wanted. The election statistics are indexed by counties and will be easy of access, and the illustrations are also indexed. It also contains the state platforms of the political parties in 1890. In this line it may also be mentioned that statistics of literacy are added. A list of the World's fair commissioners and alternates are given among other things of general interest. The book is a credit to the compiler. The work having been principally done by J. B. Keyes, who has made a reputation in this line. All the books are expected to be out in a few weeks.
 A verbal will case is no being contested in the Milwaukee county probate court. Louise Bernick, the testator, died recently, having been divorced some two years ago. While on her death bed she directed that her estate should be divided between the minister who attended her and the women in whose house she lived, who had rendered her every assistance during her illness. The lady was also to have her furniture. There was not very much of an estate in sight, but when her former husband appeared and looked up her effects, the beneficiaries of her verbal will at once took steps to protect their interests. Their claims, however, are now being resisted by B. Schley, public administrator, who disputes them in the interests of a sister of the deceased who lives in Germany. The estate left by the woman amounts to less than $1,000.
 When the government redeemed the trade dollars it accumulated 7,000,000 of them. Nearly one-half of these were sent to the assay office in New York to be melted and converted into bars, and the remainder went to the mint at Philadelphia for the same purpose. For the last two days the United States Express Company has been taking the bars away. They are sent by the order of the secretary of the treasury to the mint in New Orleans. The secretary has the authority to have silver re-minted into double or subsidiary pieces. The understanding is that the silver is to be coined. The express company is removing about $250,000 worth of silver a day, and it will take at this rate over two weeks to clear the assay office. The silver at the Philadelphia mint, it is supposed, will be coined there. The silver can be coined at no greatly increased expense to the government, as work is now light at the mints and the regular forces have to be kept employed.
 Milwaukee masons and brick layers went out on a strike this morning, owing to the refusal of the bosses to continue to confer with them. This means a continuance of the strike that has been on for some time, although the bosses claim the men will not hold out much longer, many of them having left the union, and some having returned to work. Those who hold out say they will positively refuse to work for less than 45 cents an hour. That harmony does not exist in labor ranks is shown also by the fact that the masons and bricklayers' union has decided not to join the International union, and the Federated Trades council now threatens to establish an auxiliary here to be in opposition to them.
 Secretary Blaine, single handed and alone, with a navy represented only by the models in the bureau of construction, is fully able to take care of Count Radini, of Italy. Between 'bouts he will take care of the Pan-American commerce, the seal fisheries, etc., and have time enough to spare to sweep all ambitious democratic pretenders from the political table.

SEASONABLE ADVICE.
HOW TO SELECT A SPRING MEDICINE.
 A SHORT EXTRACT FROM A LECTURE BY DR. S. B. HARTMAN.
 A PAMPHLET ON SPRING DISEASES SENT FREE.
 Are you thinking of getting a spring medicine? Do you feel those old symptoms which are so apt to come every spring and remind you that you need something to purify your blood or cleanse your system or tone up your digestion and appetite? Now, if there was ever a time in your life when you needed to use good judgment it is right here and now.
 To begin with, you will see, after a moment's reflection, that no one medicine could be made that would be the proper remedy for all cases of spring affections. It is, certainly, a matter of considerable moment to you which of the many caraparasils, tonics and blood purifiers you need for your particular case. If you will carefully observe the following directions you will never be disappointed in finding a prompt relief.
 If your symptoms are general weakness, roaring in the head, slight faintness, brown specks moving before the eyes, twitching of the eyelids, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, palpitation and shortness of breath, a worn-out, tired feeling from morning till night; if any or all of this group of symptoms describe your case, Pe-ru-na is the spring medicine that will do it. There is no other medicine that will so quickly and permanently relieve you. If you have had La Grippe during the past winter and have not fully recovered your natural health and strength, Pe-ru-na is precisely what you ought to get at once. It will surely cure you in a short time.
 Should your symptoms be dizziness, coated tongue, sour stomach, bloating after meals, constipation, biliousness, pain in the back, seat, high-colored urine, heavy, drowsy feelings, then the remedy that will never fail to cure you is Man-rin. All of the above symptoms disappear as surely when taking Man-rin, as a white frost before a June sun. Man-rin gently quickens the functions of liver, bowels and kidneys, and cleanses the system of all impurities.
 If, however, your symptoms are eruptions on the skin, salt rheum, pains in the joints (worse at night), chronic rheumatism, boils, scrofula, blood poisons of any kind, or any other manifestation of impure blood, the proper remedy for you to get is La-on-pl-a. There is, positively, no use wasting your time taking other blood medicines, for La-on-pl-a can be relied upon as a quick, sure and positive cure in all blood diseases.
 The above advice is as it fell from the lips of one of the most renowned practitioners and lecturers on medicine in the country, Dr. S. B. Hartman. If you think of getting a spring medicine you had better profit by the many years of experience extensive observation of this celebrated authority.

FORESTS LAID LOW.

Great Fires in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

ISPERING, Mich., May 9.—Forest fires are burning at scores of points in the upper peninsula and heavy damage is reported. At Nestoria the fires are reported under control. At Champion serious damage is reported. The fires are now near Ishpeming, but this city is in no danger. The fires along the line of the Northwestern railway are doing heavy damage, many cedar posts, and telegraph poles being consumed. Nothing but a drizzling rain will prevent the rapid spread of the flames.

EAST TAWAS, Mich., May 9.—All day this place has been enveloped in smoke and it is impossible to see but a short distance. Several farm buildings are reported as having burned. The loss of pine logs on skids will be large. The wind has been blowing hard from the south all day. Among other places burned is the Sand Lake house, 8 miles from here, and well known to lumbermen. Considerable pine is burning. The swamps are dry.

CADILLAC, Mich., May 9.—Forest fires are prevailing in every direction. Cadillac is enveloped in smoke. Few buildings have been burned so far as known here, but considerable damage has been done to a tract of pine owned by D. A. Blodgett. At Henrietta men have been fighting fire to save the village. Gaston's mill caught twice. Fifty occupied buildings have been burned, and some farm buildings in that vicinity were also destroyed. Between Wallon and Traverse City extensive fires prevailed Friday afternoon. Cadillac is not in any danger.

GRAVENWICK, Ont., May 9.—There are fierce fires at both ends of the town. Every effort is being made to check their progress. The lumber yard at Taskers switch, containing 2,000,000 feet of lumber and eight loaded cars, is burning.

IN WISCONSIN.
 ASHLAND, Wis., May 9.—Forest fires are raging with terrible fierceness all through northern Wisconsin and Michigan. Railroad beds are being damaged to a great extent and frequently passenger trains must pass through a perfect cavern of flames to make any progress. Many towns about here have been threatened with destruction and the whole population brought out to make a desperate fight for their homes.

All ore traffic on the Wisconsin Central road over its branch into the iron ore regions of the Gogebic range has been stopped. One of the largest bridges along the line was burned Friday afternoon. Settlers in the woods are looking to the nearest villages and cities for protection, their homes in the forests having been consumed by the flames. The scene at night in every direction is appalling. The smoke from the fire has caused considerable difficulty at Ashland. The hot, smoky atmosphere makes it almost impossible at times to see 75 feet ahead. No reports of loss of life have been made as yet. The woods along the Omaha road are a mass of flames. The Northwest road lost several hundred cords of wood here and the Ashland and Steel Company lost 50,000 cords at High Bridge.

RAYLEIGH, Wis., May 9.—Forest fires are burning in the second growth near here to an alarming extent. Trains on the Omaha are delayed at Drummond on account of burning bridges. Wires are down in many places. No valuable timber is reported burning, but grave fears are entertained for many of the farms in this county. The air is dense with smoke and the wind from the direction of the fire, southwest.

WASHBURN, Wis., May 9.—Seven thousand cedar paving blocks and 1,000 posts at Ashland Junction were destroyed by fire. The forests are all on fire. George Robinson and wife, living at Wyman Crossing, were burned out of everything and barely escaped with their lives.

WASAU, Wis., May 9.—The dry weather in the pinery has been prolific of forest fires. In every direction can be seen vast clouds of smoke, and unless rain is had very soon much damage will ensue from these fires.

IN MINNESOTA.
 DULUTH, Minn., May 9.—Forest fires have been raging in the vicinity of Duluth for several days and the city has been enveloped in smoke. News has reached here from the suburban town sites of St. Louis and New Duluth that the latter sustained a good deal of damage and the former was completely destroyed by the fire. It is supposed that the fire originated southwest of St. Louis and was swept northward by a stiff breeze. It is also reported that a man named McManis, driving a yoke of oxen, was caught by the fire and burned to death, together with his team. The fire crossed the St. Louis river near Fond du Lac, but New Duluth was saved from destruction by a hard fight.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 9.—Reports from a dozen Minnesota and Wisconsin points indicate that forest fires are burning over a very wide area, and a tremendous wind has fanned the flames into a fury. A telegram from Hinckley says that thousands of feet of pine are being destroyed in Pine county. In Carlton county the timber has been on fire all day, and the smoke from it has been almost stifling. It is feared some lives were lost among settlers in the woods, though no definite reports have been received. The forests are also on fire along the Mississippi in Itasca county.

Over the border in Wisconsin citizens have been fighting fire for hours, and so far have kept the fire out of the villages. The forests are all in flames for miles along the Omaha line and in several places along the Wisconsin Central. Northwestern Minnesota reports state that a heavy rain is falling at Crookston, Warren and Hallock, and the storm will probably move eastward and extinguish the flames.

OTHER FIRES.
 FORT DODGE, Ia., May 9.—Twenty valuable horses were cremated in a lively stable fire at Manson Friday morning. The fire was of incendiary origin, a man being seen to leave the barn just before the flames broke forth. A blacksmith shop and buggy factory were also burned. The loss will exceed $10,000, with only $2,000 insurance.

GALVESTON, Tex., May 9.—The Santa Fe railway shops were burned in this city Friday. Value of the property, including rolling stock, destroyed will aggregate $100,000.

STILLWATER, Minn., May 9.—A basement fire under the clothing store of Gagnellus & Co. damaged furs and winter goods stored there. Loss, $13,000; fully insured.

ALLISTON, Ont., May 9.—Six blocks of buildings were burned here Friday afternoon. They contained six hotels, forty-five stores, twenty residences, the post office, market buildings and town hall. The loss will run into the hundreds of thousands.

MILWAUKEE, May 9.—Where at 7 o'clock Friday evening stood the large tinware manufactory of F. A. Walsh & Co., with its five floors of machinery and stock, at 10 o'clock were but a few jagged walls and a large pile of smoldering debris. Within three hours the factory, covering an entire block on Thirteenth street, between St. Paul avenue and North Canal street, was totally destroyed by fire, causing a loss of about $150,000.

AMONG THE MORMONS.

The President and His Party Reach Utah—Re-entries in Idaho.

SALT LAKE CITY, U. T., May 9.—President Harrison and his party reached Boise City, Idaho, at 7 o'clock Friday morning and were welcomed by Gov. Wiley and Mayor Pinney. Two troops of the Fourth cavalry and a large number of civic organizations escorted the president to the state house, where addresses of welcome were delivered by the governor and mayor and replied to by the president. The latter, after holding a reception in the governor's parlors, assisted the school children in celebrating Arbor day by planting a tree on the capitol lawn. At 1 o'clock the train left for Salt Lake City. At Pocatello the party was met by a special train, containing large delegations from this city and Ogden, which preceded the president's train to this point.

THE MACNET.

MOXIE: HALF A DAY OF NEW AND VIGOROUS

LIFE IN EVERY BOTTLE.

A harmless, nerve food that supercedes the use of stimulants and nervine; recovers nervousness, insomnia, nervous and mental exhaustion, and effects of dissipation at once.

In 1882, while hunting for health in South America, LEWIS W. MOXIE found the people using what they called Food Plant as we do greens. Surprised at its effect on his own nervous system, he shipped a bale to Dr. Thompson, asking him to determine its character. Wherever used, the result was: "It gives me a solid, durable strength and very good appetite. It cures anything caused by nervous exhaustion; it restores nervous people who were tired out mentally or physically, stops the appetite for intemperate food, cured insanity, blindness from overeating, the sight, paralysis, headache, loss of manhood from excess, made people able to stand twice their amount of work, mentally and physically, with less fatigue. It was found to be neither medicine nor stimulant, but a nerve food as harmless as milk. Women say: 'My nervousness' and exhaustion went like magic.' For sale everywhere.

CHAPIN NOT IDENTIFIED

Gazette Dispatches Supposed To Have Reached Relatives

TWO MEN ARE DOUBLES.

The Wayne, Wisconsin Station Agent Describes Chapin and Was Positive That the Man in the Jansville Hotel Was A Wayne Stock Buyer.

E. J. Chapin, the manifying unknown at the hospital, is undoubtedly a retired farmer from South Wayne, Wisconsin, a small station on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road near Monroe. Chapin owns a farm but does not work it himself, he being a stock dealer. Word has been sent to his relatives, and some of them are expected to be here this afternoon.

Early this morning two young ladies called at the hospital and inquired if they could see Chapin.

"I have an uncle by that name at South Wayne," one of them explained "and I want to see if this man is my uncle."

Her description of her uncle's personal appearance tallied exactly, and Dr. J. B. Whiting took her to Chapin's room. When she saw Chapin she was not certain that he was the man, although he bore a strong resemblance.

"I have not seen my uncle for six months," she said, "and I am not sure that this is he. He owns a farm at South Wayne, and lives near the village. He does not work the farm himself, but superintends it."

The young lady was not positive that Chapin was her uncle, and left without giving her name.

A telegram was sent by The Gazette to South Wayne, as follows:

"E. J. Chapin is unconscious here. Do you know him? Answer at once."

Back came the answer from the station agent:

"He is a stock buyer and lives here. He is a tall man, nearly 70 years old, with dark hair streaked with grey; heavy dark mustache, and is a fine looking man. He has not been seen here since Wednesday. I do not know if he is at his farm or not, but have sent a message out and will let you know at once."

At 3:30 o'clock this afternoon no answer had been received from South Wayne except a brief message from the station agent which said:

"My messenger has not returned, but I have no doubt that the man is Chapin."

Chapin's condition is unchanged this morning. He appears to be a trifle stronger, but has not been able to speak or write although he has tried very hard to do so. Several times he has, after a great effort, managed to say the single word "water," but that is all he has been able to speak. His very evident has something on his mind, and makes desperate efforts to speak and also tries to write on a slate, but without success.

Physicians who have examined him differ in opinion as to his injuries, but all admit the injury would be caused by a blow rather than a sudden attack of illness.

The following dispatch was received at 3:30 this afternoon:

SOUTH WAYNE, May 9.—"Description tallied exactly. Your man must be Chapin's double. Our 35. Chapin is now new in my office. He is much surprised, and cannot account for the great resemblance to the man you describe."

LEWIS MORRISON'S FAUST.

The Grandest Production of the Age Coming to Jansville.

The famous American actor, Lewis Morrison, will be seen at Myers' grand opera house next Wednesday night, the 13th inst., as Mephisto, in his wonderful scenic and dramatic production of "Faust." This is without question the foremost and grandest production in the annals of the American stage, and has had long runs in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago and all the important popular centers. As such, Jansville is to be congratulated upon having an opportunity of witnessing this, the grandest dramatic production of the time. The performance requires two orchestras of scenery, twelve calcium lights, a large company and the most complete electric plant ever constructed for theatrical purposes, all of which will be shown at the performance here.

The story of Faust is a weird and uncanny, yet there is in it a vein of depth, of pathos and human interest so deftly blended with the supernatural that the play-going public never tire of it. The adaptation presented by Mr. Morrison is an admirable one. The dialogue is bright, strong and eloquent, and the startling scenic effects fit so nicely into the story that one might question the propriety of designating the production as a spectacular, though there are few if any plays, good or bad, now upon the stage in which the spectacular features are nearly so effective, startling or artistic as those incident to Mr. Morrison's magnificent production of "Faust." The climax, so far as startling scenic effects are concerned, is reached in the Broken scene, but the great strength of "Faust" is rather in the "artist" than the "starring."

Every stage setting shows traces of the hand of a thorough artist. Not only is the coloring rich and harmonious, but artistic consistencies have been carefully guarded, and each scene is a picture with a foreground, middle distance and background carefully wrought out in detail while a due regard to perspective constitutes a notable feature in every setting.

Mr. Morrison's "Mephisto" is a masterpiece. There is no actor now upon the stage who could give so scholarly a rendering of any character within the range of the drama, while on the other hand the actor's fine sense of humor does not permit him to let any humorous point in the lighter portions of the dialogue escape him. In the more forcible passages Mr. Morrison's elocution is practically above criticism.

Our amusement lovers should encourage such attractions by liberal patronage. Certainly Morrison's Faust is one of the most complete theatrical performances ever seen in this country.

R. D. Otteman, Convicted of Selling Liquor to Minors and Takes an Appeal—No Glanders in Town—Frost Said to Have Injured Fruit Trees.

PRaise FOR DR. PALMER.

Tribute to the Jansville Physician Published by the Milwaukee Journal.

"In honoring Dr. Henry Palmer, of Jansville, by electing him a vice president, the National Medical Congress says the Milwaukee Journal, recognized a gentleman who has long been looked upon by the people of Wisconsin as one of the best and most successful of the profession in the state. Dr. Palmer settled in Jansville in 1866, and practiced his profession until 1881, when he offered his services to the state, and was commissioned surgeon of the Seventh regiment. He was afterwards made surgeon of the Iron Brigade, and was then appointed by the government to superintend the building of hospitals. Just before the battle of Gettysburg, a band of raiders attempted to capture the hospital stores at York, Pennsylvania, and the doctor gave them a lively fight with the aid of 700 convalescents. He was taken prisoner, and escaped. Soon afterwards he commanded a lot of convalescents who drove off another band of raiders. For these services the war department sent him a commission as lieutenant-colonel. When the war closed he returned to Jansville, where he has been eminently successful as a physician. His fellow-citizens have twice elected him mayor of the city. Dr. Palmer is now 64 years old, and is a republican without being an offensive partisan."

Whether or not R. D. Otteman sold liquor to minors will be decided in the circuit court. Otteman was convicted in the municipal court yesterday, and was fined fifty dollars and costs. His attorney, William Smith, at once took an appeal, and the case will be heard again before Judge Bennett.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Hemmons, Clarence Hemmons and Misses Alice and Jessie Hemmons are visiting Chicago friends.

Our Oxford Ties sell like sugar in grocery, and no wonder; they are stylish, comfortable and cheap. Broken on the bridge.

America Lodge No. 25, Daughters of Rebecca, I. O. O. F., occupy Old Fellows hall this evening—regular semi-monthly meeting.

Captain Alex. Buchholz with his steamer Enterprise, will make two regular trips up the river Sunday afternoon. The first trip will be at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. A. H. Caldwell will commence her flower house at the old stand West Milwaukee street on Tuesday, May 5, with fine collection of roses, etc., etc.

J. M. Thayer, of this city, was elected Grand Foreman at the meeting of the Grand Lodge, Ancient Order of United Workmen, at Milwaukee yesterday.

If anyone has a complaint to make against our two, two-fifty or three dollar shoes, we have not heard of it—hundreds of pairs sold, I repeat, on the bridge.

"Patrick McShane, 256 West Milwaukee," should have appeared last evening among the number of licensees granted by the common council, instead of among those laid over.

Jefferson Banner: Willie Schofield, of Jansville, and Miss Annie Bardick, of Albion, were united in marriage at Edgerton Thursday evening April 30, Rev. Sewell officiating.

Frank H. Jackson is home from Madison University, to spend Sunday, and Charles Stoddard, a student in the College of Physicians and Surgeons at Chicago, is his guest for a day or two.

Readers of the Milwaukee Sentinel can now get Sunday papers at 7 o'clock in the morning. Fred Ospele and Ned Whiton, who have charge of the Sentinel's Jansville circulation, will supply all who want papers.

Alderman Clinton D. Child, of the Second ward, went to La Crosse last evening on business, connected with the Jansville Machine Company. He will visit several places in Minnesota before returning home.

People have been heard to remark with a smile: "The Episcopal church does not interfere with politics or religion." Rev. A. H. Barrington will preach on this topic in Christ church Sunday night. Service at 7:30. Come.

There was a narrow escape from a serious accident on West Milwaukee street this afternoon. A team attached to D. Ryan's carriage became frightened and lunging forward pulled the driver, Harry McHenry, off the seat and broke the traces. McHenry hung on to the reins and stopped the horses before any serious damage resulted.

Sailed Around the World.

The Fortnightly club met at All Souls church last evening and talked about Darwin. They also "Sailed Around the World in the Beagle."

FOUR GENERATIONS MEET AT MRS. LORD'S HOME WEDNESDAY

Twenty-Four Grand Children, Forty-One Great Grand Children, Twenty Grand Great Grand Children Now Living in Rock County.

Representatives of four generations met at a Jansville dinner table at once Wednesday, the occasion being no less than the eighty-seventh anniversary of the birth of Mrs. Fanny Lord.

The fifth could have been easily procured had an effort been made, there being a representative of that generation now living in the city.

May 7, 1834, Fanny Smith was born in Old Lyme, Connecticut, she with her parents removing later to Susquehanna county, Pennsylvania, where in 1820 she married Enoch Lord, and settled in the words on the Susquehanna river to carve out a fortune. After years of toil and privation, and when the price of competence for which they had so long wrought, seemed almost within their grasp and after birth of fifteen children, rains of heaven descended and the floods came and swept away the most of the accumulations of years. With true Yankee pluck, and by the aid of borrowed capital, a new start was made; but, alas, a second time the floods came and swept away the balance of the results of long years of toil, leaving them almost penniless. Soon after they packed their household goods and started for the then far west, arriving in Jansville in September, 1845, where she has resided since, having lost her husband in 1865. There are now living five children, four of whom were at dinner, Wednesday; twenty-four grand children; forty-one great grand children, making a total of ninety, fully one-half of whom reside in Rock county.
